River Raisin Battlefield Visitor Center, 1403 East Elm Avenue

The center is located on part of the actual battlefield from the War of 1812, which is this museum's focus. Tours include a fiber-optic map presentation, clothing and uniforms, military life, life-size mannequins, and lots more. Tours last 1 1/2 hours. Free parking and admission. Watch for special events, such as annual January Memorial, and Battlefield Saturdays for children and families.

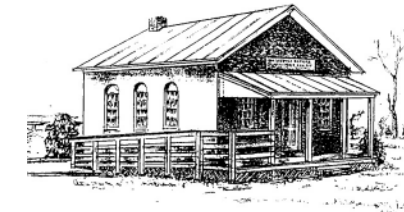

Monroe County Vietnam Veterans Historical Museum, Heck Park on North Dixie Highway

Monroe county Vietnam veterans donated artifacts to exhibit and man this museum for the public. Call to reserve a guided tour. About 1 hour.

Navarre-Anderson Trading Post, North Custer Road

See this preserved 1789 French log building, which was moved to this site to help build an early French-town farm complex. Used as a home and trading post throughout its history, this building invites fur trade discussion and touring of the neighboring summer kitchen, beehive oven, gardens, and reproduction barn.

Martha Barker Country Store
North Custer at Raisinville bridge

A turn of the century country store exhibit fills this 1860s one room school building with everything from housewares to farm goods, post office to lunch room. A travel back in time, with candy sold behind a candy counter. Free parking & admission.

Both site tours take 1 hour total.
